Odyssey Law Enforcement helps law enforcement offices become more organized and efficient—so officers have more time to protect citizens and enforce the law.

Law enforcement offices need a software system that is designed to give users the control they need to effectively manage incidents, property, papers, and personnel—all from one comprehensive database. Centralizing information is key to improving efficiency and accelerating the law enforcement process.

Why Choose Odyssey Law Enforcement?

With Tyler's Odyssey Law Enforcement product center, law enforcement offices and officers have access to a complete records management system that assists in the day-to-day workload by getting rid of unnecessary and time-consuming paperwork.

Users can organize, search, and report detailed information with ease—track and monitor the progression of an incident; search for information on other incidents; and even maintain multiple reporting officers, investigators, and offences. Plus, this intuitive-to-use system maintains information on calls for service, civil papers, and even personnel information. Law enforcement officers become more organized and efficient—which means more time spent protecting citizens and enforcing the law.

All data, including narrative descriptions and summaries, exports easily to a variety of customized reports—including Uniform Crime Reporting (UCR)—that are professional, and court ready. Additionally, users can drill-down within the reports for further detailed information.

Odyssey Law Enforcement can be integrated with mapping, data analysis and field reporting tools to give users a complete view of a specific incident, or a trail of incidents. And, it is fully integrated with Odyssey Jail Manager.
